A WARM WELCOME

SETTING THE TONE

A gathering of over 250 women coming from diverse educational, cultural and linguistic backgrounds to form a perfect audience, for a hybrid workshop specially designed to help women equip with the essential skills of personal finance.

INVEST WITH INTENT

Women investors tend to outperform men over the long term because women are inherently drawn to goal-based investing.

WHY FINANCIAL PLANNING MATTERS

Our ladies engaged in conversations around financial planning, asked questions and took home some investment wisdom along with them.

OUR PARTICIPANTS

On a cool Saturday evening in January 2025, our team geared up for a special edition of #SheInvests hosted by the ladies of Integrated Defence Services (IDS), Delhi. We brought together a diverse group of women for an interactive workshop on something close to us yet so far. Yes, money matters. 250+ women from various training stations under IDS joined to engage in a conversation on money matters, investments and gold. With participants joining in person and remotely from eight stations, we looked at the ways in which women can create their own financial wellbeing.

Who is managing our money?

Our goals and life situations are unique to us. So should our investment plan be that is designed keeping our current financial situation, risk profile and future goals in mind. Let's not follow what others are doing with their investments.
